THE LIBRARY OF URBAN AFFAIRS

Riverside, New Jersey 08075

We cordially invite you to accept a brief trial membership in

THE LIBRARY OF URBAN AFFAIRS

and to select any three of the important books listed in the enclosed brochure
(values to $57.50)
for only $1.00 each

Dear Reader:

If you are just a little tired of hearing that:

- . the world is collapsing around us, and the holocaust is just around the corner
- . the future of our cities is probably oblivion
- . our problems of race, poverty and environment are utterly insoluble

...then may we suggest another point of view.

It is just possible that:

- . it won't and it isn't
- . it may not be
- . they aren't

...if some of the daring and creative solutions now being tried are given wider application.

You'll find out all about them in THE LIBRARY OF URBAN AFFAIRS.

WHAT IS THE LIBRARY OF URBAN AFFAIRS?

THE LIBRARY OF URBAN AFFAIRS is a book club. A most unusual one.

By mass standards, it's small. By anybody's standards, it's select. In reputation and influence, it's enormous.

Our members include nationally (and internationally) known leaders in the fields of planning, sociology, government, ecology, social work, economics, history, and architecture. You would undoubtedly recognize many of their names and, we think, be proud to be numbered among them.

These are their reasons for membership in THE LIBRARY OF URBAN AFFAIRS.

- . it's an essential service that keeps them totally informed on the best thinking, reporting, and analysis in the whole expanding, exciting field.
- . it saves them time.
- . it saves them money.

WHAT DOES THE LIBRARY OFFER?

Probably the best list of books on all aspects of urbanology you can find anywhere. A "dream library" for everyone interested in urban affairs. To pick a few titles at random:

- * Ian McHarg's brilliant DESIGN WITH NATURE -- ecological planning in action.
- * Edward Banfield's view of our UNHEAVENLY CITY and what we should stop doing in the name of reform.
- * Daniel Moynihan and a slew of top notch colleagues exploring the route TOWARD A NATIONAL URBAN POLICY.
- * Lawrence Halprin's innovative THE RSVP CYCLES -- creative processes in the human environment.

Sybil Moholy-Nagy's iconoclastic THE MATRIX OF MAN. Le Corbusier's masterpiece THE RADIANT CITY. Marris and Rein's classic DILEMMAS OF SOCIAL REFORM. The American Institute of Planners' conference books. Jane Jacobs on the health of cities. Ada Luise Huxtable on cities and living in them . . . and many, many more. Some have become classics or near-classics. Others represent the most provocative, or stimulating, or helpful books available on their subject.

AND IT IS NO ACCIDENT THAT

the book selection, month after month, maintains such a steady standard of excellence.

Our editors sift through hundreds of manuscripts from all publishers. Only those that have something important to communicate -- and do it well -- are considered worth including in THE LIBRARY OF URBAN AFFAIRS. And worth being considered by you.

In addition, we make it easy for you to decide whether or not you want a given book.

Every selection is carefully and completely reviewed. In this way, you can conveniently choose the books -- and only the books -- you want.

HOW DOES THE LIBRARY OF URBAN AFFAIRS SAVE YOU MONEY?

All books are offered to our members at generous discounts. Savings range up to 30% off publishers' prices -- often more.

For every four books you buy, you may choose a free bonus book. One you're probably thinking of buying anyway. All of which adds up to considerable savings on books you will want to keep for your own personal library.

SHOULD YOU JOIN?

Only you can answer that, of course. But if you are interested in any aspect of urban affairs, The Library is your best and most inexpensive source.

And because we believe you are interested, we've gone to considerable length to make our invitation attractive.
